California Department of Social Services (CDSS) Professional Learning Resources for Early Childhood Educators

All About Young Children

All About Young Children provides family-focused multimedia products for families and describes the California infant/toddler and preschool foundations. Products are available in eight languages. Website: https://allaboutyoungchildren.org/

Beginning Together: Caring for Young Children with Disabilities or Other Special Needs in Inclusive Settings (Beginning Together)

Beginning Together is designed to move inclusive experiences for young children with disabilities or other special needs and their families from theory to practice. Website: http://www.cainclusion.org/bt

California Department of Social Services (CDSS) Streaming Video Subscription Service

The CDSS Streaming Video Subscription Service offers all available companion videos for California's educational resources on one simple platform—registration to use the streaming service is free. Website: https://www.caearlylearningvideos.org/

Child Development Training Consortium

The Child Development Training Consortium promotes high-quality early education to California's children and families by providing financial and technical assistance to students and professionals in early education. Website: https://www.childdevelopment.org/

California Early Childhood Online (CECO)

CECO provides access to comprehensive resources and courses in one centralized location to meet the ever-changing needs of the early childhood field. Within CECO, teachers can explore modules on the DRDP for infants/toddlers and preschool-aged children, as well as modules on the California Preschool Learning Foundations and California Preschool Curriculum Framework. These courses are offered free of charge. Website: http://www.caearlychildhoodonline.org/

California Early Childhood Mentor Program

The California Early Childhood Mentor Program provides resources and support to aspiring and experienced teachers and administrators in programs serving children from birth to five, as well as before- and after-school programs. Website: http://www.ecementor.org/

California Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health Consultation (IECMHC) Network

The (IECMHC) Network is a professional development resource that includes on-site consultation, reflective practice conversations, and resources regarding challenging behavior and special needs. Website: http://www.cibc-ca.org/

California Preschool Instructional Network (CPIN)

CPIN provides professional development and technical assistance to preschool teachers and administrators to ensure preschool children are ready for school. Training is based on California Department of Education publications, primarily the California Preschool Learning Foundations and California Preschool Curriculum Framework. Website: http://www.cpin.us/

California School-Age Consortium (CalSAC)

CalSAC's mission is to enhance the performance of California out-of-school program providers by building connections, competence, and community. Website: http://www.calsac.org/

Child Care Initiative Project (CCIP)

The CCIP works through local Child Care Resource and Referral (CCR&R) agencies to recruit, train, and retain licensed family child care providers. Website: https://crcnapa.org/child-care-initiative-project/

Desired Results Training and Technical Assistance Project

The Desired Results Training and Technical Assistance Project provides training and technical assistance in implementing the Desired Results system, including assessing children with the Desired Results Developmental Profile© (DRDP). Website: http://www.desiredresults.us/

Family Child Care at Its Best

Family Child Care at Its Best provides high-quality education on child development to thousands of licensed and license-exempt family child care providers throughout California. Website: https://fccbtraining.org/

MAP TO INCLUSION & BELONGING…MAKING ACCESS POSSIBLE (MAP)

MAP develops materials and serves as a clearinghouse of resources and information for individuals, organizations, and child care providers about inclusive practices, including current information on successful state and local initiatives. Website: http://www.cainclusion.org/camap

Program for Infant Toddler Care (PITC)

The PITC is the CDSS's training system for professionals who work with infants and toddlers (birth to age three). The PITC seeks to ensure that America's infants get a safe, healthy, emotionally secure, and enriching start in life. Website: https://www.pitc.org/

Key Publications from the Early Education Division (EED)

Best Practices for Planning Curriculum for Young Children Series (online only)

Creating Equitable Early Learning Environments for Young Boys of Color: Disrupting Disproportionate Outcomes (2022) highlights the critical need to disrupt disproportionate discipline patterns and create strength-based, equity-oriented early childhood environments that help Black and Brown boys thrive.

Family Partnerships & Culture (2016) emphasizes the importance of being responsive to the families' cultures as we develop meaningful partnerships with family members. Providing high-quality care demands exploring ways to connect with the families we serve. High-quality learning experiences contribute to children's well-being and successful development.

The Integrated Nature of Learning (2016) explores how children learn across multiple domains simultaneously. This publication illuminates best practice approaches to teaching with the integrated nature of learning in mind.

Responsive Early Education for Young Children and Families Experiencing Homelessness (2020) provides essential factual information and resources on the prevalence of early childhood homelessness, along with concrete, research-based strategies that teachers can implement to benefit all children in their care, particularly those affected by homelessness.

The Powerful Role of Play in Early Education (2021) This publication explores the crucial role of play in children's development, particularly during the early years. Play is an important context in which children learn, experiment with new ideas, and make sense of the world around them.
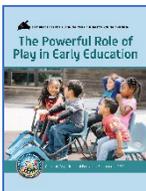

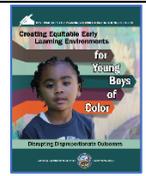

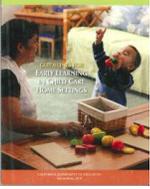

California's Best Practices for Young Dual Language Learners Research Overview Papers span the disciplines of neuroscience, cognitive science, developmental psychology, assessment, educational research, family engagement, and the inclusion of children with special needs. These research summaries guide early childhood educators on how to best support the learning and development of young dual language learners in high-quality preschool programs.
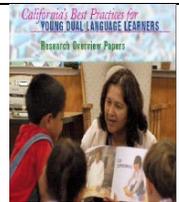

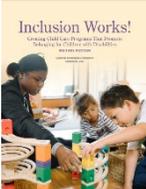

California's Curriculum Frameworks are aligned with the foundations. The curriculum frameworks provide specific guidance to early childhood educators working in programs serving children from birth to five. The California Infant/Toddler Curriculum Framework (1 volume) and the California Preschool Curriculum Framework both provide research-based strategies for teaching approaches, relationships, environments, and activities to early childhood educators, promoting children's healthy development and learning. This enables young children to be better prepared for success in school and life. Disponibles en español

California Department of Education's Streaming Video Subscription Service is an online streaming video subscription service. Users can now access the companion videos for California's educational resources on a single, intuitive platform. Currently, this service offers access to the following videos: • Infant/Toddler Learning and Development Foundations • Preschool Learning Foundations • Infant/Toddler Learning and Development Program Guidelines • Preschool Program Guidelines
California Early Childhood Educator Competencies (2011) describes the knowledge, skills, and dispositions that early childhood educators need to provide high-quality care and education to young children from birth through 5 years old. It contains twelve competency areas. The print copy is a binder-ready product. A companion video clip series, consisting of 13 video clips, is available on the CDE website.
California's Early Learning Foundations are at the center of the California Early Learning & Development System. There are two sets of learning foundations: 1) Infant-Toddler Learning and Development Foundations covering four domains of development; and 2) the California Preschool/Transitional Kindergarten Learning Foundations (PTKLF). The foundations describe the knowledge and skills that young children typically acquire when provided with support in high-quality early care and education programs. The PTKLF identify nine key domains of learning. Foundations Video Series available on the CDE Streaming Video Subscription Service
The California Preschool Program Guidelines (2015) are designed for administrators, directors, supervisors, college faculty, and policymakers. This comprehensive publication includes effective approaches for creating high-quality preschool programs. Special chapters include "Support for Young Dual Language Learners" and "Using Technology and Interactive Media with Preschool-Age Children." Guía del Programa Preescolar de California is the Spanish translation of this document. Subtitulos disponibles en español.
Desired Results Developmental Profile© (DRDP© is an observation-based assessment instrument used to assess children's developmental progress. The DRDP was developed for the following four age groups: 1) Infant Toddler (I/T) - Birth to 36 months; 2) Preschool (PS) – 3-5 years; 3) Kindergarten entry; 4) School Age (SA); Kindergarten through twelve years; School Readiness (SR); Transitional Kindergarten (TK); and Kindergarten (K). Disponibles en español.
Guidelines for Early Learning in Child Care Home Settings (2010) were created to guide family child care providers in offering high-quality early learning and development experiences to the young children in their care. Includes topics such as the roles and relationships involved in home-based child care and how to create safe, inclusive care environments that foster healthy development and a love for learning.

California Department of Education, Early Education Division/Quality Improvement Office (QIO)

Key Publications from the Early Education Division (EED)

Inclusion Works! Creating Child Care Programs That Promote Belonging for Children with Special Needs (2021) is a handbook for early care and education programs caring for children from birth through 5 years old. This publication provides guidance and resources on fully including young children with disabilities or other special needs in regular preschool programs. It has family-friendly approaches, environmental adaptation strategies, and access to inclusion resources.
Infant-Toddler Learning and Development Program Guidelines, Second Edition (2019) This publication presents information on providing high-quality early care, including recommendations for program policies and day-to-day practices that will improve program services to all infants and toddlers. Disponibles en español.
The Preschool English Learners (PEL) Guide: The Preschool English Learners-Principles and Practices to Promote Language, Literacy, and Learning provides guidance and strategies for teachers to promote high-quality language, literacy, and learning experiences for young English learners. Disponibles en español.
PITC Resources through WestEd: The Program for Infant-Toddler Care (PITC) is a high-quality training system that provides professional learning materials based on sound theoretical principles and research. Developed for trainers, program administrators, and teachers of infants and toddlers, these materials spell out a responsive, relationship-based approach to early care in which teachers learn to understand children's cues, interests, and skills and use them as the basis for an integrated curriculum that includes cognitive, communication-language, perceptual-motor, and social-emotional development. The importance of forming a close, caring relationship with each child and family is emphasized throughout all PITC materials.
Watching My Child Grow is a video introduction for families to the Desired Results system and is dubbed in English, Spanish, and Mandarin. Disponibles en español.

The Getting to Know You Through Observation DVD illustrates the importance of observation in early childcare and education settings. It offers strategies for developing accurate and reliable systems of observation and recording. The DVD is subtitled in Spanish. To download the accompanying Getting to Know You Through Observation Trainer's Guide and the Training Workbook, visit www.desiredresults.us.

Watching My Child Grow is an introduction for families to the Desired Results system. It is dubbed in English, Spanish and Mandarin.

Mini Measures are a pocket-sized format designed to assist teachers working with the DRDP© (2015) in their observations of children. The color versions of the DRDP (2015) © (Preschool view and Infant/Toddler view) and the DRDP-K© (2015) Mini Measures divide the developmental domains by color, providing a quick visual reference point for the measures.

Suggestions for Completing the DRDP©

▸ Know the DRDP© contents and make observation notes that will help to complete more than one measure.

▸ Observe children daily (indoors and outdoors) , keep running records, journals, work samples, and anecdotal notes.

▸ Choose a domain to focus on, look for integrated learning opportunities

▸Use time management and review your evidence before the due date of the assessment.

▸ Use simple recording methods. Use a journal for each child. Encourage staff and parents to note observations, anecdotal records, and share photos showing children's progress and growth.

▸ Review and reflect on gathered observations and documentation to inform and complete the DRDP©.

Tips on Training Staff on the Desired Results System

‣Acknowledge and validate program staff's hesitancy and resistance to change. Help them effectively learn how to use the DR tools to improve the quality of care in your program.

‣Provide training time for staff to practice observing children's activities and interactions, writing objective anecdotal notes, and reflecting on their observations for rating the DRDP©. ==Use the free online training systems.==

‣Share that the Desired Results assessment tools are designed to reveal "snapshots" of each child, classroom, and the entire program to adjust and inform instruction to move children forward to meet Desired Results. Each tool identifies unique strengths and areas of improvement.

‣Complete the DRDP© two times annually. Effective education and care professionals are already observing, gathering evidence and documentation to demonstrate children's knowledge and skills.

‣Post information about DRDP measures, and developmental domains around classrooms or in staff meeting rooms so that the staff can become familiar with them, at a glance and over time.
