Teacher: Do you have a big family?

Girl 1: Mmm, Yeah.

Girl 2: Me too.

Teacher: You too? You have brothers and sisters?

Boy: I have brothers.

Teacher: You don't have brothers?

Girl 2: I have three brothers.

Teacher: Oh, one sister. You have three brothers. What about you?

Boy: I only have one brother and one sister.

Teacher: Huh?

Boy: I only have one brother and one sister.

Teacher: One brother and one sister. I have three brothers.

Child Offscreen: What?

Girl 1: Same as me?

Teacher: Uh-huh. Three, the same as you.

Adult Offscreen: Oh, you guys have the same.

Teacher: And what about you? You have one sister. I have zero sisters.

Child Offscreen: What?

Teacher: Yeah.

Child Offscreen: Samantha have one sister.

Boy: I only have one sister.

Teacher: One sister?

Boy: And one brother.

Teacher: And one brother. And how many is that?

Boy: Two.

Teacher: Two.

Child Offscreen: A little brother, too.

Teacher: Yeah, a little brother too. What about do you have any dogs or?

Girl 1: We have one dog.

Boy: I have a dog.

Teacher: You have a dog?

Girl 2: I have three.

Girl 1: We have four cats.

Teacher: You have four ducks?

Girl 2: I have three.

Girl 1: Four cats.

Teacher: Four dogs.

Girl 2: I have three cats.

Teacher: Oh, you have four of those.

Boy: I had four, but they died, so that means I have one.

Teacher: Oh.

Girl 2: I have three cats.

Teacher: So three cats. Wow. I have one dog.

Girl 2: One dog?

Boy: Only one dog?

Teacher: One one dog.

Girl 2: I have one dog too.

Teacher: Yeah.

Boy: I have one dog too.

Teacher: And I have three birds.

Boy: What?

Girl 1: What?

Teacher: Yeah. Three birds.

Boy: How do you take care of all of them?

Teacher: It's a lot, three birds and one dog.

Boy: Can they escape from you?

Teacher: You want a bird?

Child Offscreen: Me too.

Girl 1: I have two.

Girl 2: I don't have a bird.
